

ABSTRACT

An animal registration management system which enables the individual identification of an animal correctly, quickly, and at a low cost using an animal identifier. This system is an animal registration management system which enables individual identification of an animal by an identifier printed or recorded with an animal registration number belonging to a predetermined management organization, wherein when an animal breeder registers an animal at a management organization, it first obtains an identifier, then reports an animal registration number included in the identifier to the management organization together with individual information unique to the animal which the breeder desires to register, then the management organization registers the reported animal registration number and the individual information in its database and issues an animal registration certificate linking the animal registration number and the individual information. The report can be made by an animal registration application form attached to the identifier.
